

Adaptive Capability

Business Solutions for a Changing Planet

About Us

Adaptive Capability provides strategic, business focused services helping organisations build their adaptive capacity and competitive advantage in the face of climate change and other environmental risks.

We work with businesses, local government and other organisations to deepen their understanding of how climate change and other macro environmental issues affect - and are affected by - their activities.

We help our clients benefit responsibly from the many opportunities presented by the transition to a changing, challenging and resource constrained world.

Our clients avoid 'climate obsolescence' by gaining a comprehensive understanding of their risk exposures and treatment options, covering loss of property, reputation and revenue, plus the threat of litigation, breach of regulation, market decline, supply chain impacts and systemic failure, to name but a few.

Services

Adaptive Capability Maturity Model. Discover how your organisation measures up using our unique diagnostic tool. Benchmark your organisation's approaches to dealing with climate change and other strategic environmental risks across seven key process areas and hundreds of individual criteria.

Climate Change & Environmental Risk Assessment. Know where you stand with a holistic view of your organisations unique exposures to climate change and other environmental risks. We consider the potential of a broad range of hazards to impact your organisation across multiple dimensions.

Strategic Adaptation Consulting brings together an international team of specialists in business strategy, enterprise risk and environment, assisting our clients to reinvent their product, process and operational strategies, adapting to growing climate and environmental risks and discovering new revenue opportunities.

Adaptation Business Case helps our clients create compelling business cases for their adaptation initiatives, drawing from appropriate scientific, financial, regulatory and market-based sources.

Program Management Leading a pre-qualified team of specialists, we help our clients implement strategic adaptation programs.

Our People

Adaptive Capability bridges the gap between business people and environmental / climate scientists. Our team includes experienced business and marketing strategists, risk managers, analysts, program managers and sustainability specialists, surrounded by a broader network of environmental scientists, ecological economists, property consultants and other relevant disciplines.
